

MANUELA

Liquid hand cleaning preparation

Areas and methods of usage: the product is designed for professional use. It can be applied in all fields where it is necessary to clean contaminated hand and body surfaces. We recommend it for washing hands with no disinfection in various industrial areas, cleaning body surfaces in social and health care institutes and so on.

Take some millilitres of the preparation, rub it all over the previously wetted hand or body surface evenly, generate foam with a minor amount of water and close the process by rinsing. After the removal of the contamination, the treated surface will feel soft and smell pleasant.
